
AJK to observe ‘Kashmiri Children Day’ on January 4 to invite world ‘attention towards sufferings of Kashmiri kids in IIOJK:

Published on January 2, 2025

Document Date: Sun, Jul 06 2025 10:10:04 am

Category: ,English,Kashmir - ~

Show on website : Click Here

MIRPUR (AJK): Jan. 2 : ‘Kashmiri Children Day’ would be observed across Azad Jammu Kashmir state on Sarurday – January 4 to draw attention of the world towards the sufferings of the innocent Kashmiri children at the hands of the Indian occupational forces in Indian Illegal occupied Jammu and Kashmir, it was officially said.

On the directions of the AJK Prime Minister Chudhary Anwar ul Haq January 4 would be observed throughout Azad Jammu Kashmir as the Kashmiri children day to apprise the external world of the plight of children in IIOJK where the innocent children were being made target of the increased Indian aggression and brutalities, an AJKgovtstatementreleasedto the media late Thursday said.

A formal official circular has been issued on Thursday by the Department of Services and General Administration of the Azad Jammu and Kashmir government to this direction.

The AJK Prime Minister Haq, while highlighting the plight of the Kashmiri children, said that during the years of turmoil hundreds of children have fell to the bullets of Indian occupation forces whereas tens of thousands of children have been rendered orphaned.

“Similarly, hundreds of children have been blinded due to blatant use of pellet guns and live ammunition by the Indian forces”, the PM said, adding that a number of children have been injured or disabled due to use of excessive force by the Indian army during military operations.

On the other hand, the PM said, “The unprovoked firing by the Indian forces on the LoC had left behind a harrowing legacy in the shape of injured and disabled children . He said that the purpose of observing this day was to draw the attention of the international community to India’s brutality and aggression.

Meanwhile, the AJK State Forest Department has been directed to dedicate this year’s tree plantation campaign to the Kashmiri children.