TASHKENT, January 8. /Dunyo IA/. Uzbekistan's Minister of Foreign Affairs, Bakhtiyor Saidov, today met with U.S. Ambassador Jonathan Henick to discuss expanding bilateral cooperation in key areas. The meeting, which took place in Tashkent, focused on enhancing collaboration between the two nations and reviewed the schedule of upcoming events and meetings at various levels. Minister Saidov emphasized the strong strategic partnership between Uzbekistan and the U.S. in 2024 and expressed confidence that this collaboration would lead to even greater achievements in 2025. Both sides reaffirmed their commitment to working together across several critical sectors, aiming to strengthen their diplomatic, economic, and cultural ties. The discussions are expected to pave the way for further fruitful engagements between the two countries in the near future.
