Occupied Jerusalem, March 14 (QNA) – Israeli occupation forces continued their aggression on the city of Tulkarm and its camp for the 47th consecutive day, and on the Nur Shams camp for the 34th day, amidst heavy reinforcements, raids on homes, and the forced displacement of residents.

Palestinian WAFA news agency reported that the occupation forces sent military reinforcements toward the city and its two camps, and deployed infantry squads in the neighborhoods of Tulkarm and Nur Shams camps and their surroundings. The forces fired live ammunition and sound bombs, and explosions were heard, accompanied by intense reconnaissance flights.

It added that the occupation forces, with their heavy machinery and bulldozers, reinforced their military presence in front of the houses they seized on Nablus Street, which connects the Tulkarm and Nur Shams camps, turning them into military barracks. They also set up mobile checkpoints to restrict the movement of civilians.

The Israeli occupation forces set up flying military checkpoints at various times during their ongoing aggression at several key locations inside the city and at its entrances.

The ongoing aggression on the city and its two camps has resulted in the killing of 13 civilians, including a child and two women, one of whom was eight months pregnant. Dozens have also been injured and detained, and more than 12,000 people have been forcibly displaced from Nour Shams camp and a similar number from Tulkarm camp.
