MIRPUR (AJK): March 28: UK-based Global NGO Muslim Hands Internationalsl managed Sehri Open Kitchen for the needy including poor, downtrodden class in Mirpur city of Azad Jammu Kashmir.

Lauding the endeavour, Faisal Shehzad, Regional Director of Allama Iqbal Open University (AIOU) Mirpur, Friday visited the Sehri Open Kitchen organized by Muslim Hands in Mirpur, it was officially said.

During his visit, he closely observed the meal preparation process and actively participated in cooking and serving food to deserving individuals. His hands-on involvement reflected his strong commitment to community service and social welfare, an AIOU official handout said.

Expressing his deep appreciation for Muslim Hands' efforts in combating food insecurity, particularly during the holy month of Ramadan, Faisal Shehzad praised the organization's dedication to ensuring that no one goes hungry. He extended his heartfelt best wishes for the continued success and expansion of this noble initiative.

In his remarks, he emphasized the importance of collective responsibility and urged individuals from all walks of life to contribute to such humanitarian causes. He highlighted that Ramadan is a time of reflection, generosity, and community spirit, and initiatives like the Sehri Open Kitchen embody these values. He encouraged individuals and organizations to step forward in support of social welfare efforts that uplift the underprivileged.

With the generous support of donors and volunteers, initiatives like the Sehri Open Kitchen continue to serve those in need, making Ramadan a time of true compassion and unity. Every contribution, no matter how big or small, helps ensure that no one is left behind and that the spirit of giving remains strong throughout this blessed month.
