Tehran, June 25 (QNA) – A spokesman for the Iranian Parliament’s National Security and Foreign Policy Committee announced that the committee had approved details of a plan to suspend Iran’s cooperation with the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA).

The Iranian Mehr News Agency quoted the spokesman as saying that in light of the ceasefire and the cessation of conflict, there is no peace or ceasefire, and if the Israeli entity commits any evil,

Iran will respond more decisively.

He added that committee members had approved a plan requiring the government to suspend cooperation with the IAEA and to prosecute the agency's director general on several charges, including submitting false reports.

The spokesman said that the details of the plan, which obligates the government to suspend cooperation with the IAEA, have been approved.
