A one-day free medical screening camp is being held today at the VOH Head Office, New Abadi,

9:30 AM to 3:00 PM, offering free checkups, screenings, and health awareness sessions for the local community.

The primary objective is to raise awareness about preventive healthcare, early diagnosis, and effective treatment. Special screenings for lung diseases, blood pressure monitoring, and sugar tests are being conducted, along with diagnosis of asthma, tuberculosis, COPD, and other conditions. Free counseling and lifestyle guidance are also provided to encourage healthy living.

This initiative is a joint effort of Awaz-e-Insaniyat Welfare, Dubious Foundation, and the Professional College of Nursing & Allied Health Sciences, Islamabad.
