Tehran, October 27 (QNA) – Iran's President Masoud Pezeshkian met in Tehran on Monday with Oman's Minister of Interior, Hamoud bin Faisal Al Busaidi, to discuss ways to deepen relations between the two countries.

In this regard, Pezeshkian underscored his country's readiness to expand cooperation with Oman in all fields, hoping that the visit would substantially help advance the bilateral relationship.

For his part, Al Busaidi described the Oman-Iran relations as special and deep, hoping that these relations will continue with increasing strength and determination
