

Thursday, February 5th 2026

MENA Fintech & Insurtech Festival 2025 Highlights Innovation in Qatar

Published on December 3, 2025

Document Date: Thu, Feb 05 2026 09:59:05 pm

Category: , English, Qatar - , Snippets

Show on website : Click Here

rki.news

Doha, Qatar – December 2nd, 2025. The MENA Fintech & Insurtech Festival 2025 commenced at the Doha Exhibition & Convention Centre (DECC), launching two days of high-impact dialogue and discovery around the innovations redefining the financial technology landscape.

The event brought together leading industry figures, global innovators, investors, and policymakers for an in-depth exploration of emerging trends and opportunities shaping the fin tech and insurtech sectors across the MENA region.

Day One featured an impactful program of keynote speeches, panel discussions, and hands-on workshops. Participants explored key themes such as the transformative power of fintech, shifting regulatory landscapes, and the rise of Real World Assets as one of the industry's most promising new trends.

The momentum continues into Day Two, which will showcase an impressive lineup of distinguished speakers and panelists. They will share expert perspectives on topics ranging from the impact of emerging technologies on financial services, to the role of AI in Islamic fintech, blockchain innovation, embedded insurance, and more. Attendees will gain valuable insights from thought leaders and decision-makers who are actively shaping the future of financial and insurance technologies.

“As the fintech landscape evolves at an unprecedented pace, our goal is to create a platform that accelerates collaboration, innovation, and regulatory clarity across the MENA region,” said

Malik Shishtawi, President of MENA Fintech & Insurtech Festival. “The MENA Fintech &

Insurtech Festival 2025 will bring together the brightest minds, the most forward-thinking institutions, and the next generation of startups driving the digital economy.”

Since its inception, the MENA Fintech & Insurtech Festival has established itself as a cornerstone event in the regional innovation landscape—driving thought leadership, promoting financial inclusion, and empowering the fintech and insurtech sectors through actionable insights and cross-border collaboration.

Registration & Participation

Professionals, startups, innovators, and financial institutions can register and explore exhibition and sponsorship opportunities at www.menafintechfestival.com.