It sounds like an exciting lineup for the semifinals! With such an unpredictable tournament, it's hard to pick just one team to support. Each team has shown impressive skills and determination to reach this stage. It'll be fascinating to see which team rises to the occasion and claims the championship title.

Indonesia is going to face Uzbekistan in the first semifinal at Abdullah Bin Khalifa stadium while the second semifinal is scheduled at Jassim Bin Hamad stadium between Japan and Iraq.

A good display of soccer is expected as Uzbekistan and Japan eyes on their second championship title while Indonesia and Iraq aim to be their first one through their brilliant performance in the previous encounters. After a 2-2 draw, Indonesia beat South Korea 11-10 on a sudden death penalty shootout.

Another interesting factor of the tournament is, that there were 6 Red cards in the last 5 matches.

After the knockout of Favourite Saudi Arabia and host Qatar, which team will you be supporting?
