Doha: Global Rytham Cultural Club (GRCC) honoured renowned academician, multilingual author and media personality Dr. Amanulla Vadakkangara for achieving the rare milestone of becoming the first expatriate to write 100 books in multiple languages.

The felicitation ceremony was held at She Kitchen Restaurant, Asian Town, in the presence of community leaders and distinguished guests. GRCC Advisor Zubair Pandavath and President Roshni Krishnan ceremonially draped Dr. Amanulla with a golden shawl in recognition of his outstanding literary contribution. Media Coordinator Ranjith Chemmad and General Secretary Vinesh H. Hegde also attended the event along with well-wishers.

Speaking on the occasion, President Roshni Krishnan described Dr. Amanulla's literary journey as an extraordinary example of dedication, scholarship and cultural commitment. She said authoring 100 books across different languages is not only a personal achievement but also a matter of pride for the expatriate community.

Advisor Zubair Pandavath noted that Dr. Amanulla's works cover diverse fields including language learning, motivation, media studies, cultural discourse and community development. He highlighted the global influence of his widely acclaimed Vijayamanthrangal, which has positively impacted thousands worldwide.

Media Coordinator Ranjith Chemmad said Dr. Amanulla's publications have strengthened linguistic and cultural bridges among communities, particularly in the Gulf region. General Secretary Vinesh H. Hegde added that beyond authorship, he has inspired many through lectures, media initiatives and community engagement.

Expressing gratitude, Dr. Amanulla dedicated the honour to his readers, students and supporters, reaffirming his commitment to continue contributing to society through knowledge and cultural dialogue.
