Doha: Senior Pakistani community leader Chaudhary Mohammad Ajmal, who has been living in Qatar for nearly 50 years, hosted his traditional Eid Milan gathering on the first day of Eid. Known for organizing these gatherings for many years, he continues to bring together prominent members of the Pakistani community in Qatar under one roof.

The event was attended by notable community figures and representatives from the Pakistani community, including Liaqat Amin Satti, Tahir Ali, Mohammad Bashrat, Qasir Anwer, Pervez Akhtar, Rana Shakeel, Chaudhary Mohammad Afzal, Ali Zulqrain, Dr. Ahmed Javed, Arshad Hashmi, G.D. Bangash, Ikram Butt, Waqas Malik, Noor Ahmad, Ijaz, Khalid Noor, Rizwan Raza, Mohammad Yaqoob, Adnan and Sheikh Abdul Razzaq. The gathering provided an opportunity for attendees to exchange Eid greetings, meet old friends, and discuss community welfare and current affairs in a warm and positive atmosphere.

Welcoming the guests, Chaudhary Mohammad Ajmal thanked everyone for attending despite their busy schedules on the first day of Eid, which is usually reserved for family commitments. He emphasized that the main purpose of these gatherings is to promote unity, friendship, and the well-being of the Pakistani community in Qatar.

Traditional Pakistani dishes and sweets were served, which the guests greatly appreciated.

Participants from different parts of Pakistan enjoyed the hospitality and described the gathering as a warm, pleasant, and memorable occasion that strengthened community bonds and celebrated Pakistani culture in Qatar.

The guests thanked Chaudhary Mohammad Ajmal for continuing this long-standing tradition, which has become a symbol of unity among overseas Pakistanis in Qatar.
