Russian forces have carried out strikes on Ukrainian energy facilities and military-related targets, the Russian Defense Ministry said on Tuesday.

According to the ministry, the attacks targeted energy and transport infrastructure, drone storage sites, and fuel depots. It added that temporary deployment points of Ukrainian armed formations and foreign fighters were also hit in 142 locations.

The ministry further stated that Russian air defense systems intercepted 14 guided aerial bombs, six U.S.-made HIMARS rockets, and 391 fixed-wing drones over the past 24 hours.

It also reported that two Ukrainian unmanned surface vessels were destroyed in the Black Sea.
