MIRPUR (AJK), April 24 – A grand seminar held at the Mohtarma Benazir Bhutto Shaheed Medical College, Mirpur, underscored the importance of empowering youth and channeling their energy toward strengthening Pakistan and building a brighter national future.

The event focused on the theme “Building the Future in the Light of National Narrative,” highlighting patriotism, constructive thinking, unity, discipline, and national responsibility among young people.

Balochistan's former Secretary Hafiz Muhammad Tahir attended as chief guest. Principal Professor Dr. Faisal Bashir, Medical Superintendent Prof. Dr. Ijaz Ahmed Raja, Director Administration Ijaz Mahmood, faculty members, and students also participated.

Speakers said Pakistan has achieved significant progress in defence and strategic standing, describing it as an emerging influential nation on the global stage. They said the country's armed forces have played a vital role in strengthening national security and enhancing Pakistan's international recognition.

They stressed that the youth carry major responsibility as the country's future asset and must align their intellectual and ideological direction with national values. Emphasis was placed on unity, discipline, and awareness of Pakistan's national narrative to safeguard the country's progress.

Speakers also warned against negative propaganda on social media, saying hostile elements are attempting to influence youth thinking and weaken national cohesion. They urged students to counter misinformation through awareness, critical thinking, and positive engagement. They added that digital platforms must be used responsibly to promote truth, education, and national harmony.

It was further stated that while Pakistan's armed forces defend the country's borders, ideological frontlines must also be protected through education and awareness. The importance of character building, research culture, and academic excellence was also highlighted as essential pillars for national development.

Students expressed pride in Pakistan's defence capabilities and reaffirmed their commitment to national development. They said the youth stand ready to contribute to the country's progress and will support efforts for peace, stability, and prosperity.

The seminar concluded with a call for collective responsibility in building a stronger, more united, and forward-looking Pakistan.
