Azerbaijani President Ilham Aliyev received Baykar Chairman Selcuk Bayraktar during his visit to Azerbaijan, with discussions focusing on ongoing technology projects in the country.

Bayraktar said he briefed President Aliyev on the initiatives being carried out by Baykar Technologies in Azerbaijan. Sharing details of the meeting on social media platform X, he expressed gratitude for the reception and highlighted the strong ties between Azerbaijan and Türkiye.

“May our unity and brotherhood with dear Azerbaijan endure forever,” Bayraktar said.

The meeting reflects the growing cooperation between Azerbaijan and Türkiye in the field of advanced technologies and defense industries. Baykar, a leading Turkish unmanned aerial vehicle manufacturer, has expanded its international partnerships through technology development and innovation projects.

President Aliyev and Bayraktar also discussed opportunities to further strengthen cooperation and explore future initiatives aimed at enhancing technological collaboration between the two countries.
